27th Post - One Word "Countersue"

July 08, 2024

27 means something to me. It's funny how this post is labeled as such... Given the history of my blog thus far this is interesting to me. Last night I had a dream where my rights were violated and I started the process of legal action in my dream against the entity responsible for "spying" on me and trying to cover it up. The chatter has stated I have the largest legal case in the universal mind now and the ball is now rolling, there's no stopping this now no matter what legal team you think you are a part of my rights have been violated to such a degree a countersue makes sense in so many ways.

Basically I've won the stupid lottery here being "me" and it's abuses that's come with it. I'm not going to tolerate the abuses and let them win over me without a fight. I know my rights. Obviously, I'm not free to go. Remember that one kids, "Am I free to go now".

I've done my due diligence checking in with the FBI time to time because I TRUST their integrity above any other USA 3 letter agency here. I occasionally send a selfie as well along with my message to them using my secret email inbox just for them, they will probably get a copy of this blog post but trust me they are immune to countersuing as long as they do their job properly here in a professional manner because as my mother taught me "The Truth Always Comes Out" and that value seems to align more with the FBI than the stupid CIA or NSA or DOJ agencies. They have a respectable trust with me against the evil I battle here, and I will not back down and get F*CKED over like the 5D seems to be trying to do against me.

I've made a contact on Reddit who understands me and what I seem to be going through, but this goes a level deeper into the dream world with something I've started here. The light body is something I'm coming to deal with more and more and having to learn about and now I have a teacher to help explain it more to me what exactly that means. From my understanding someone whose lost their light body is attaching to mine and my imagination in order to steal what's naturally available in the universal mind and they are abusing my mind for that purpose, best yet I have names or at least voices of people who are guilty in this complaint in my mind. I've been told my star was collapsed (possibly a part of the light body) and then undone and that truth will come out in due time because I'm not the only one this has been done too! Strangers with Candy is a horrible show done by evil that admitted to me their participation in it, better yet the director's commentary track of the show they literally walk out on the show and don't comment any further after one episode if that. This is awful. But I know the truth about something that happened to someone other than just me! They have the right to countersue with me! I'm not done I know another actor whose been victim as well! The movie "Saved" has an actor who was abused done by this evil as well who stared into the eyes of Donald John Trump and got sucked into this bullshit as well... You also have the right to countersue what happened against you! As I learn more from this Reddit user on Tuesday, I will find out more about my light body and how all this telepathy works via proxy (so far via proxy has been a theme here) and I never brought that topic up but the via proxy thing seems to be true so far in the 1st Post Everything I Know So Far! If anything, my countersue will be supported by the universe created by this user he's created but it will spread far and wide throughout the 5D and the only message I bring to deliver here is "The Truth Always Comes Out" and let it ring throughout the cosmos and let my mother become legendary for her words taught to me from an early age that have stuck with me my whole life. Let's not forget my father for teaching me about evil and the square root, "The Lust for Power and Greed (cryptocurrency) and my added element a dash of popularity for a previous post about what life means" I've added to my father's teaching about what evil means and again that shall go down as legendary because I "Honored Thy Mother and Thy Father" in the best way possible with the words given to me inspired to create this blog post with what has been going on with me down here.

I'm not proud of this post bragging about a countersue but let it be an example for any future person caught up in a similar situation there is hope and a way out and be words to shed fear into those who don't believe "The Truth Always Comes Out" despite whatever universe you're hiding in right now, shit rolls downhill they say in the army, well I make shit roll back uphill back to the source where it came from and if that's not a teachable moment for our youth in the universal mind I don't know what is! The best outcome scenario is that this becomes a teaching moment in time FOREVER from this point forward that people can't get away with this kind of shit against us ever again because my mother was always right and so was my father. I have said to the chatter "This shit ends with me." and I mean that with every inch of my soul and mind that this is this it! I will put an end to this sort of crime and lead by example here humbly because it's not about money or power, it's about integrity, respect, honor, and probably the rest of the military values that I'm not going to dive into right now. Money comes and goes, respect though, that's earned doing the right thing and I have a major argument against the one evil after me that respect through doing things for people "nicely" in the right way has its benefits and is the ultimate form of respect VS fear respect that the evil I deal with monetizes on here... There's a lot of fear respect happening here but I hope with this case to lift that burden from those impacted by this and hopefully create a new chapter in people's lives that matter and let them live without fear of this form of "respect". I once made a song for a senator whose name will not be named but his wife heard because he was being egged on to abuse me and the song got to his wife and changed the outcome of the situation... That was a rough day, but the power of song made its way through the cosmos and changed someone's mind that day when it was snowing outside and I decided to sing for that senator and his life, I'm pretty sure his wife was in tears over this, and it actually worked! They can choose to come forward later in this case if they choose too or not, it's up to them but I strongly suggest they do to reveal the source of influence I'm after here and bring to justice. That's going to be a tough decision but trust me I saved someone from doing something awful under the influence of evil (possibly by popular vote) and I will have made a friend in the cosmos forever with a family who would appreciate what I have done for them.

Let it be known popularity because it's part of the square root of all evil as I suggest isn't my goal either, my mission in life is the family values I was taught. I wish to spread those values along to others, but I don't want to be popular because of it. Let the legendary status stand but don't mind us and our business while we live our lives, we are just ordinary people living life like everyone else. Even if I win this countersue, I plan on doing good for others with it, I'm not the greedy type. Spreading the words I was taught would be my mission throughout the cosmos and some Question and Answer might be fun to do with HONEST real answers haha! Think about that for a second... Another Reddit user I talk to on the regular knows some of my honesty and some of my secrets I've used here so this could be a joint fun sort of poke at evil sort of tour sort of thing! I have nothing to hide here because the "Truth Always Comes Out" and spreading that message far and wide is probably needed as hope throughout the universe as a whole... For I know, I am not the only one here... That's the sad part of this story I am not the only one... BUT in my defense if I can find a way to put an end to this kind of situation happening to others and find a way to stop the abuses from happening due to healthy amount of fear instilled into the peers that responsible for all this then I have WON! The greater good outweighs whatever evil comes at me.

I have made friends online through Reddit that would support this post throughout the cosmos hands down if they read this in its entirety. That's what I do, I make connections with people, and I do it well. I'm naturally a good-natured person and people see that in me, and I could use friends along the way to deliver this natural message to the cosmos from the most unlikely of people brought to be online. Everything happens for a reason. I see the beauty of this planet and share what I see to others online in our community and I hope it brings us closer together despite our geographic differences. I like to believe I changed lives, especially from my birthday where I gave my grandma my lucky lotto ticket 1$ spent for 2 lines and hopefully changed her life in the cosmos, I didn't want to be alone that day and decided to spend the day with her getting to know my grandma better, think of a reverse birthday but I'm giving the gift instead. That's kind of how it should be for some people as a message to deliver. My chatter has gone on about how she connected with that ticket and she's so happy, and I COULD NOT BE HAPPIER she's happy!!! I was able to provide something on my birthday to someone who could do more than I can with it, and that was the right thing to do. I used my bday month to send out more tickets to specific people (one being a federal agent) but I said in another universe "do the right thing with this" as my message. I have an idea of what I'm doing here but not really...

I know I have rights that have been violated in the Universal Mind and in the dream world too, I've seen things in my dreams that sort of connect the dots going on here... But my rights to the constitution have been violated especially with the propane stingray powered on my neighbor's lawn. I knocked it over and the number of connections dropped on my router connection! GO FIGURE THAT! But see the post on my neighbor's death and it all makes more sense... The Truth Always Comes Out... Some deer feeder that was with the PUD guy living next to me... I've witnessed the PUD doing weird things out here and even questioned one guy on it and got no answers. Part of the Reddit user I meant makes sense here, people don't talk about this stuff down here, we just don't. I have left google reviews online others have seen around places of interest and trust me that TRUTH will come out in due time...

I know I have the biggest case in the Universal Mind against what's happened to me, but I remain humble about it. This is about right vs wrong. I care about what's right and proving the wrong, WRONG! Defunding the WRONG is the only goal I have here, stopping them having the funding to do the evil crimes they are committing. Which brings me to a new topic, check your Dev Settings in your browser and look for JavaScript mining happening! That seems to be the new tactic happening here to mine for some form of new crypto that might affect the future! Put a stop to this now! I have found JavaScript mining happening on my router and my PC as well! It's obvious this seems to be the new "trend" happening and I have uncovered it, so put a stop to it NOW!
